Solar Eclipse Record Hailed

By The Associated Press
Scientists believe they have taken man's finest record of a solar eclipse, but months of painstaking work must be done for the mass of raw data to be refined to nuggets of new information.

May Aid Astronauts

Within their records of Saturday's total eclipse of the sun may lie the answer to such practical questions as how astronauts might be warned of an impending solar flare.

Or they may satisfy scientific curiosity with data that proves or disproves one scholar's theory that a family of mimicomets races around the sun, masked by its glare.

Albert E. Belon of the National Science Foundation said researchers up and down the North American continent put together "the most comprehensive and integrated study of a solar eclipse in history."

70 Rockets Fired

They used nearly 70 rockets and seven earth satellites, took readings with spectrographs, infrared detectors and other instruments and observed from aircraft and ground facilities as the moon blacked out the sun.

"It will be a long time before we can answer the questions we asked, but the information is going to be there," said Robert L. Krieger, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Wallops Island, Va., station.

Clouds disheartened scientists and amateur astronomers in Florida and South Georgia but skies were clear for a scientific team that gathered in the highlands at Miahuatlan, Mexico in the path of totality.

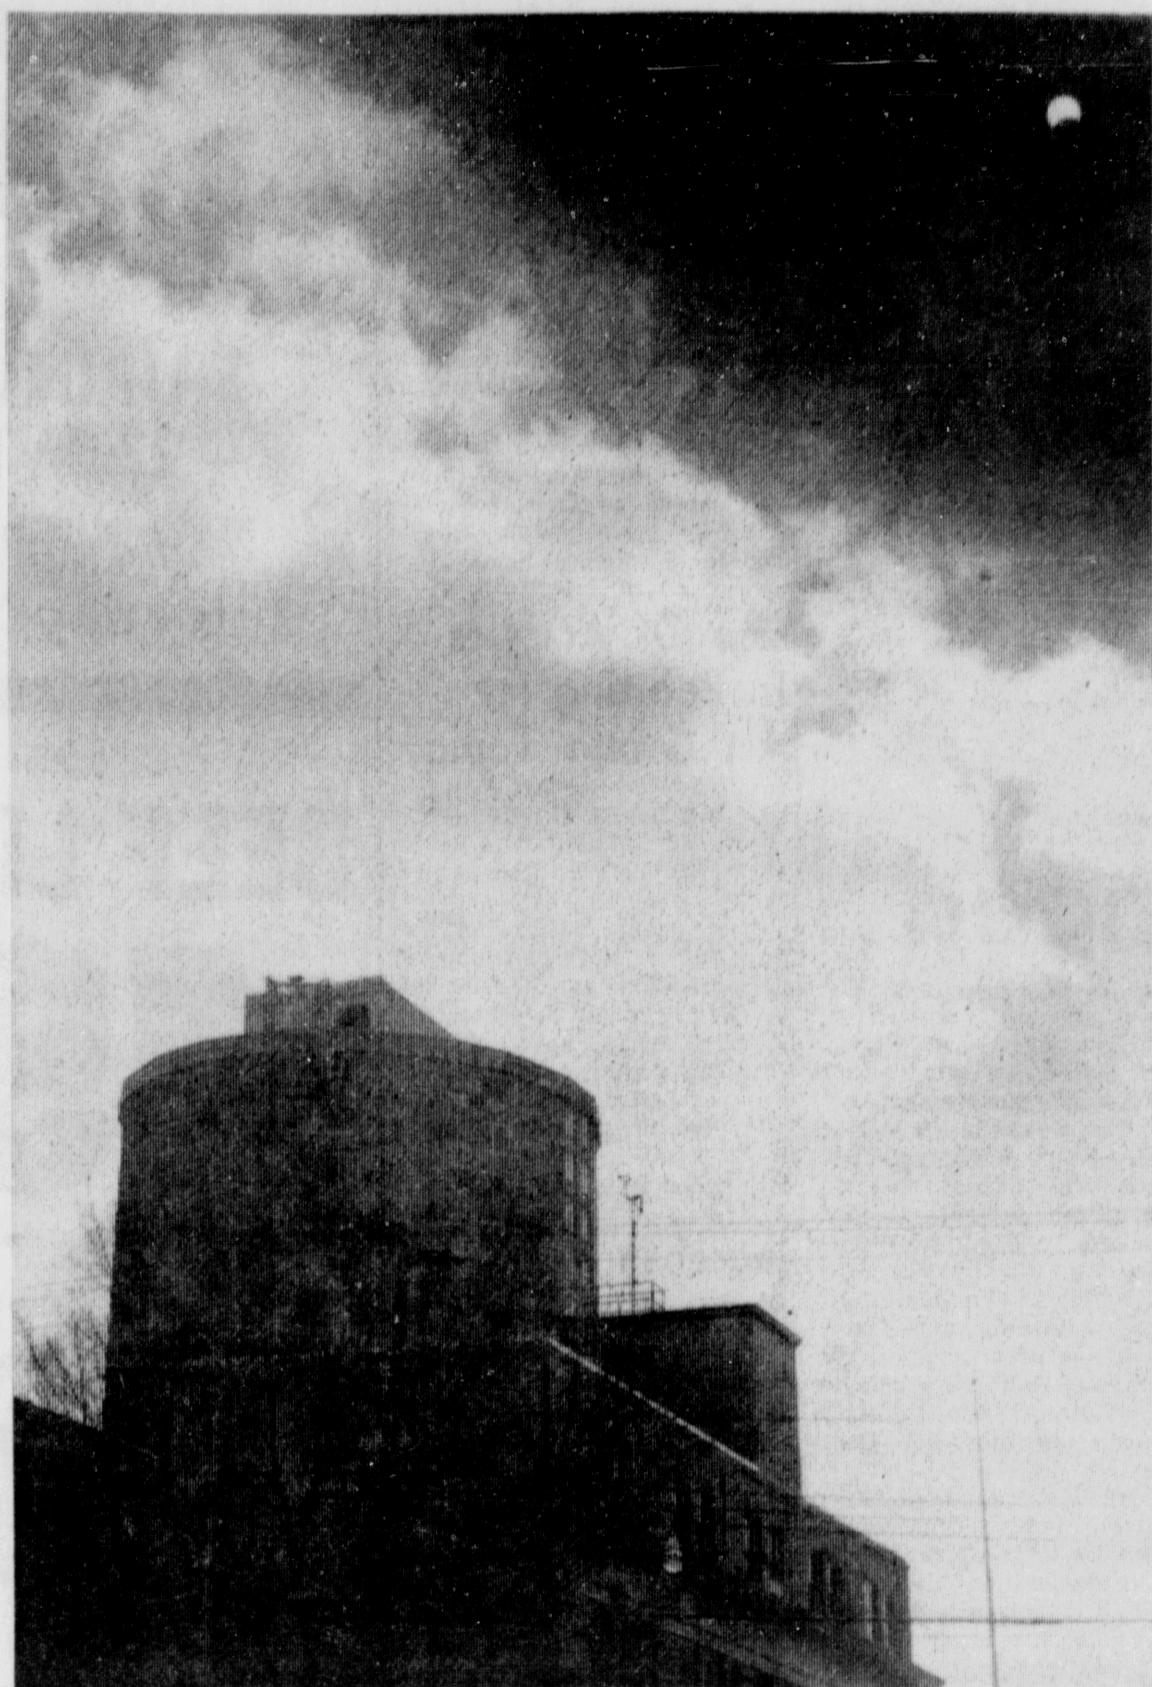

Absolutely Perfect

"It was absolutely perfect," said Harvard astronomer Donald H. Menzel who was part of the Mexico team. "I have never seen a better sky in any eclipse."

The scientists turned out because a total eclipse permits observations of the sun, stars, planets and space not otherwise obtainable. They expect new information in three primary areas: meteorology, ionospheric physics and solar physics.

The eclipse was also viewed by millions of private citizens in Mexico, the United States and Canada. Most apparently heeded prior warnings that direct observation of the event could result in severe burns of the retina.

A check of hospitals in a dozen cities turned up no reports of retinal burns attributable to the eclipse.

ESCANABA'S VIEW of the eclipse of the sun was photographed opposite the new high-rise building Saturday. The area witnessed only a partial eclipse as shown in the photograph. Daily Press Photographer Louis Freeman took this picture at 12:30 p.m., shooting the sun through exposed film.

27 Yanks Died In Laos, Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has acknowledged an Army captain was killed fighting North Vietnamese guerrillas in Laos but denied the death was due to "ground combat operations."

Capt. Joseph Bush was shot to death Feb. 10, 1969, by North Vietnamese troops. He returned the fire of enemy troops during the engagement at a compound on the edge of the Plain of Jars, the White House said.

26 Others Die

A White House official said 26 other Americans have been killed or reported missing due to hostile action in Laos.

But Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren maintained Sunday President Nixon stands by his statement that "no American stationed in Laos has ever been killed in ground combat operations."

Not Engaged In Combat

Bush's death was "due to hostile action," Warren said.

"He was not engaged in combat operations... he was a military attaché," Warren explained. "When the compound was attacked by commandos, he did take action, firing a gun, in an attempt to protect other persons in the compound and in taking this action he exposed himself to enemy fire and was killed."

The controversy over Bush developed after President Nixon said Friday in a formal statement that "No American stationed in Laos has ever been killed in ground combat operations."

Copyright Story

The American's death was reported Sunday in a copyright story by freelance writer Don A. Schanche and distributed by the Los Angeles Times. Warren said Nixon was unaware of Bush's death at the time he issued his formal statement on U.S. involvement in Laos.

Although Bush fired at the North Vietnamese commandos, the White House said, the death could not be attributed to ground combat operations because the compound was "about 10 miles to the rear of the expected line of combat."

Casualties Covered Up

Hostile action covers casualties in circumstances other than direct combat, including ambushes, long-range artillery fire and mines.

A White House authority last Friday said less than 400 Americans had been killed or reported missing in Laos as a result of air activity.

Lowering Age Of Voters New Senate Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Senate maneuvering over Negro voting rights legislation, the issue of lowering the voting age to 18 was raised anew today by two senators poles apart politically.

A Senate judiciary subcommittee called a hearing to give Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., a chance to advance their arguments that Congress can give the vote to 18-year-olds.

Although Goldwater and Kennedy agree on this, they differ on whether it should be made part of legislation to prevent denial of voting rights because of race.

The legislation is embroiled in a dispute between senators who want to continue the 1965 Voting Rights Act, applying to seven Southern states, and a nationwide bill urged by President Nixon and already passed by the House.

An amendment to lower the voting age to 18 already has been offered by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. One of the co-sponsors is Kennedy, the assistant Democratic leader.

But Goldwater says the proposal should be handled as a separate measure rather than entangled in the already sharp controversy over the voting rights legislation.

Many senators maintain the voting age can be lowered to 18 only by a constitutional amendment.

Protestantism Due For Change

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Church representatives went to work today on a unification plan that could reshape the life of much of American Protestantism in this decade.

The initial step was up to the Consultation of Church Union, whose annual meeting opened here. Predictions were that it would give a go-ahead to the plan.

Nine denominations, with a total of 25 million members, are involved in the discussions, with a specific plan of union on the agenda for action for the first time.

The Rev. Dr. William A. Ben-field Jr., of Charleston, W.Va., head of a commission that drafted it, predicted its approval.

"It will make the next two years the most creative, effective years in the history of the American Protestant churches and have still greater significance in the years beyond that," he said.

In those two years, participating denominations are expected to consider the plan, as it is shaped here this week, and offer their suggestions before it is finally revised and put before them for conclusive action.

Participating denominations include:

The Episcopal, United Presbyterian, United Methodist, Christian (Disciples) and Presbyterian U.S. (Southern) churches, the United Church of Christ, and three mainly Negro bodies, the Christian Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal and African Methodist Episcopal Zion churches.

Among various provisions to assure blacks a full role in the newly united church, one specifies that the first presiding bishop will be a black churchman.

Questioned about this, Dr. Benfield, a Southern Presbyterian, said it was felt that the unusual requirement was justified to help guarantee Negroes an equitable place in the new church.

"We can't begin on the basis that things are normal and as they ought to be—they're not," he said, adding that blacks would not enter the new church "unless we come through and produce."

About 200 church representatives are taking part in the meeting.

Yanks, Planes In Big Battle

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen and their supporting planes and helicopters battled North Vietnamese forces along the Cambodian border in the northern part of War Zone C today for the fourth straight day.

The U.S. Command said 43 North Vietnamese were killed in four clashes Sunday and today in Tay Ninh, Phuoc Long and Binh Long provinces. Six of the 1st Air Cavalry Division soldiers were killed and 29 wounded, while South Vietnamese militiamen in one of the battles reported very light casualties.

Three ground clashes Sunday were followed by a heavy North Vietnamese mortar attack early today on Fire Base Flasher, about three miles from the scene of the action Sunday in Tay Ninh province. U.S. spokesmen said 150 to 175 rounds were fired, but most of them landed outside the camp perimeter.

The shelling caused very light casualties, with no fatalities and no damage, headquarters said. But it reported counter fire from helicopter gunships and artillery killed 10 North Vietnamese.

The U.S. Command also announced that a hamlet just outside Saigon was hit by rockets accidentally fired from an American helicopter gunship Sunday evening, and three Vietnamese civilians were killed and 11 were wounded.

State Tax Load May Get Heavier

LANSING (AP)—Any taxpayer who is struggling to meet next month's deadline for paying his federal income tax should avoid the Michigan Legislature this week; there is little consolation in the business at hand.

Topping the agendas of both chambers are a variety of revenue bills that would raise between $400 million and $500 million in new state taxes.

The biggest tax bill has been passed in the House by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica. Estimated at more than $400 million, Spencer's bill would allocate some $271 million to the State School Aid Fund to help pay the difference between Gov. William G. Milliken's proposed $949-million school aid level and the $1.22-billion that the House passed last week.

Tax Increase Seen

Under Spencer's plan, the state personal income tax rate would be increased from 2.6 per cent to 3.5 per cent, the corporate rate would go from 5.6 per cent to 7.7 per cent; and banks would be taxed at 7.7 per cent instead of the present 7-per-cent rate.

In addition, local school districts would be authorized to levy income taxes—up to 2 per cent in districts with 10-mill property taxes, no more than 1 per cent in 10-15 mill districts.

The object and return benefit, Spencer says, would be to bring local property taxes down from the statewide average of 24 mills.

Bill's Defeat Predicted

The House also faces a reconsideration of the narrow margin by which it passed the School Aid Bill last week. GOP Minority Leader Robert E. Waldron who opposes the $22-million parochial aid section in the bill, calls the bill's increased spending level "premature" and predicts it ultimately will be defeated.

The Senate, meanwhile, faces a second vote on a proposed, three-cent increase in the present, seven-cent-a-pack wholesale tax on cigarettes. If put into effect on April 1 as proposed, the tax could bring in some $24-30 million for the school aid fund.

Higher Cigarette Prices

Counter and vending machine prices probably would rise above their present price range of 36 to 45 cents a pack, but the vending machine price could go above 50 cents a pack if operators chose to pass on to consumers the cost of changing the machines as well.

Other measures in line for Senate action include one proposal to return Michigan to Daylight Savings Time by a constitutional amendment and another to jail anyone refusing an order to leave a state-owned college campus. That bill passed the House by a solid majority in late January, but a special report prepared for a special Senate study committee concluded no new laws are needed to deal with student unrest on campus.

Expense Rule Debate

The House later this week may debate Speaker William A. Ryan's request for a change in the chamber's rules on expenses by committees and members. After several controversial trips by legislators to Puerto Rico, California and Florida between Thanksgiving and the start of the year, Ryan wants the power to approve or reject any travel or operating expenses other than what committees might spend from a standard, $1,000-a-year budget.

The biggest issue, however, remains the huge school aid package that the House has submitted for what Milliken proposed and the Senate passed late last year.

Senate Rejection Seen

If apparently weakening House parochial opponents fail to block the bill, the Senate is expected to reject its added

Ford Grant Goes For Police Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Institute announced Thursday a $150,000 grant from the Ford Foundation for a police patrol experimental project in Detroit.

Under the program a police sergeant and the patrolmen he supervises will be assigned solely to one beat so that they can become experts in the problems of the neighborhood and get to know the people there.

More Bookkeeping

Clarence W. Lock, State Tax Commissioner, questions one aspect of Spencer's plan, high population mobility and the requirement that businesses help collect the tax would vastly increase bookkeeping and administrative problems, Lock believes.

Waldron, Spencer's own party leader, believes Milliken's school aid package will be the one finally accepted, but that more money should not be appropriated until the Governor's budgeting and administrative reform measures are passed and put into practice perhaps a year from now.

No Tax Increase?

Fraternity House Fire Injures Four

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Four persons, including three firemen, were injured today when flames swept a fraternity house on the edge of the University of Michigan campus.

Two of the firemen were hurt when the second floor collapsed under them, and they plunged to the floor below. The two—Lt. Laurel Bauer, 43, and Firefighter Donald Hutchins, 23—were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment of body bruises.

Another fireman, John Thompson, 32, was cut on the hand when a window blew out. He required three stitches.

Laotian Guerrillas Well-Supplied Unit

KALONG, Laos (AP) — Twenty miles west of this outpost in the heart of the south-east Laotian panhandle is one of the main arteries of the Ho Chi Minh trail, the North Vietnamese supply line to South Vietnam.

A dirt track leading past the Laotian army camp is Route 9, and Khe Sanh, one of the famous battlefields in South Vietnam, is 60 miles away. But only special guerrilla teams of seven Laotians each venture east from Kalong.

The guerrillas' reconnaissance operations along the Ho Chi Minh trail are one of the reasons for the existence of Kalong outpost and its garrison of 150 Laotian soldiers, ranging from boys of 13 to wrinkled veterans of a quarter of a century of fighting. The guerrillas get some of their supplies from Kalong — and surface occasionally for a drink and a good night's rest at the nearby village of Muong Phalane.

These special guerrilla units try to keep an eye on what moves along the Ho Chi Minh trail. If they spot something significant—a truck convoy, a new bridge or refueling point, or a group of North Vietnamese soldiers marching south—they radio their finding to the regional Laotian military headquarters at Savannakhet, on the Mekong 50 miles west of Kalong. From there the report is channeled to the combined U.S. — Lao operations center at Vientiane, 175 miles northwest of Savannakhet. There the decision is made whether American jet bombers are called to from their bases in Thailand to attack what the guerrillas discovered.

Nobody at Kalong or anywhere else in Laos will say who trains the special guerrilla units, who lands them for their missions, and who plucks them from the jungle if they are wounded. But the Laotian armed forces do not have the helicopters or planes to do such a job, at least not in this part of Laos.

Kalong outpost is well stocked with American war materiel, most of it brand new. There are mortars, claymore mines and three-foot-long rocket launchers. M16 rifles were distributed two months ago. They are in tip-top shape, and a 13-year-old private took great care that no sand got into his when he posed at the edge of a foxhole for a photograph.

Indians Ruffle Army Feathers With 'Invasion'

SEATTLE (AP) — The Army has repelled a band of Indians who attempted to take over part of a fort, arresting actress Jane Fonda and about 85 other persons in the process.

After the day-long demonstration Sunday eight Indians said they had been beaten and clubbed by military police in a cell at the Ft. Lawton stockade here.

Miss Fonda Seized

Miss Fonda and 13 other persons were seized by MPs at Ft. Lewis, about 35 miles south of here, after a larger group was unsuccessful in efforts to occupy a section of 1,100-acre Ft. Lawton, part of which is scheduled to be made surplus by the Army and may become a park.

The Indians, numbering approximately 160, were met by the 392nd Military Police Co. on their second attempt to enter Ft. Lawton. The group, which called itself the "United American Indian Ft. Lawton Occupational Force," climbed over fences, and scaled a high bluff.

Proclamation Read

The Indians, some carrying sleeping bags and food, read a proclamation demanding that an "Indian university," and cultural center be developed on the fort.

Addressed to "the great white father and all his people," the proclamation said: "In the name of all Indians, we reclaim this land for all Indian tribes."

Col. Stuart Palos, Ft. Lawton commander, said Miss Fonda's lawyer was given a "letter of expulsion" banning her from the post after she took part in the demonstration.

72 Held Briefly

About 72 persons, including women and children, were held briefly at the post stockade for illegal entry. At the main gate, other members of the group sang and beat drums while the 72 were questioned and released.

Palos said Miss Fonda was "found with about 14 others in an Army tactical area" at Ft. Lewis after she was ejected from Ft. Lawton.

Visits Coffee House

"She was taken into custody because she was in violation of the expulsion letter," he explained. "Ft. Lawton is a satellite base of Ft. Lewis."

Miss Fonda and the others taken into custody at Ft. Lewis were held briefly. After her release, she visited the Tacoma Shelter House, a coffee house for soldiers.

Award Winners Challenged

The youthful recipients of awards from the Escanaba Jaycees — John Bissell, Peter Mitchell and Alfred Gareau — were "challenged" by State Rep. Michael Dively of Traverse City Saturday night to work to "bridge" the gap between today's angry young generation and the older "establishment."

Bissell, a trust officer at the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Escanaba, received the Distinguished Service Award.

Mitchell, an English instructor at Bay de Noc Community College, was presented with the Outstanding Young Educator Award.

Gareau, who operates a 240-acre farm in the Flat Rock area, received the Outstanding Young Farmer Award.

Each young man received a plaque from the Jaycees.

Nation Angry

Dively, a last-minute replacement speaker for Flint Congressman Donald Riegle who was unable to leave Washington, D.C., said that the nation is angry and frustrated, particularly the young, and that the situation is going to grow worse unless the young people are allowed some "meaningful" role.

"Their disaffection with the system is very deep," Dively warned, "and it will not end when Vietnam ends. It will grow on the college campuses and expand to the high school campuses."

Dively said public officials and private citizens must listen to the young people and to let them participate in the decision making process.

"Tokenism" isn't good enough, he said, pointing out that all too often the "establishment" asks young people to participate, then assigns them to menial tasks like stuffing envelopes.

Rep. Michael Dively of Traverse City, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mitchell of Escanaba. Dively, who was the 1967 DSA winner of the Traverse City Jaycees, was the speaker for the evening. (Daily Press photo).

"We've got to make the Democratic process responsive to the needs of people," he said.

Must 'Reach Out'

Dively also challenged the award winners and the 200 to 300 persons at the Dells to look forward with a sense of mission and to "reach out from ourselves" to our communities.

Toastmaster Dick Barron said the Distinguished Service Award is presented by the Jaycees to publicly honor a young person for service to the community. Bill Rodman, president of the Jaycees who presented the award to Bissell, said Bissell served as campaign chairman for the Delta United Services drive and also worked actively in arrangements for the Escanaba Airport Dedication.

A native of Escanaba and a graduate of Holy Name High School, Bissell received his bachelor's degree at Georgetown University before entering the U.S. Marine Corps. He served five years in the Marines before being discharged with the rank of captain.

He served 18 months in Vietnam and received the Purple Heart.

Active In Community

Since returning to Escanaba, Bissell has been active in the community and he is a member of the Optimist Club and of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Mitchell, a graduate of Albion College, is in his second year as an English instructor at Bay de Noc Community College. He presently serves as advisor to the college's Student Government and has been active in other student-faculty affairs.

His award was presented by Dick Perlick.

Gareau, according to Joseph Heirman, Michigan State University extension agent for Delta County, produces enough milk on his farm to feed 1,000 people for an entire year. Gareau has about 35 cows milking in a herd of about 75.

In addition to operating the farm he obtained from his father five years ago, Gareau also serves as supervisor of Escanaba Township.

Non-Returnables Being Returned In Litter Fight

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP)—High school students are sending the "non-returnable" bottles and cans back to the manufacturers in an anti-litter campaign.

Bloomfield Hills Andover members of the Environmental Quality Club have mailed more than 100 packages in their drive to "Return the Un-Returnable."

Each package contains from one to 48 bottles and a message asking the manufacturer to stop using throwaway containers and/or start a more imaginative approach to their future packaging efforts.

WHO SAYS MUTUAL FUNDS CAN'T SWING?

Most mutual funds we sell are moderately or highly conservative in nature. We wouldn't have you think otherwise. For Westamerica sells principally to people who are looking for prudent investments, maybe seriously planning for their later years, for educational needs, or seeking an adequate return now on their present capital. But suppose it's action you want—if you can afford to take the greater financial risks assumed in more speculative ventures—your Westamerica professional can reach into his portfolio of over 100 selected mutual funds and pull out a few that are pretty sporty. Probably these aren't for you, but they do illustrate a good point. When you carry an unusually large "inventory" of mutual funds, as Westamerica does, you can almost always find the one that fits. Use Of Acrylics In Painting Is Art Group Topic

The Bay de Noc Art Association will hold a regular meeting Sunday, March 15, in Room 10 at Bay de Noc Community College, beginning at 2 p.m.

The meeting will be in the form of a workshop and a demonstration of the use of acrylic paints will be presented. Members who have worked with this medium are asked to bring examples of their work.

Several members will show ways in which the acrylic materials can be used.

Increase In RR Rates Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A request for the second six per cent increase in railroad freight rates in less than a year has been at least temporarily rejected by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

All the railroads except those operating entirely in the Southeast—which had not sought the rate hike—were told Friday the earliest possible increase would take effect June 2, after a 75-day period for examining "the adequacy of all freight rates and charges."

The carriers had asked four days ago for the six per cent across-the-board increase to take effect March 11.

Audience Applauds Holy Name Musical

By KAREN LARSEN

Humorous characters, artistic staging and musical talent all contributed to a capacity crowd's approval of Holy Name High School's dramatic presentation of "Once Upon a Mattress," which opened Sunday night.

The musical comedy, set in medieval times, is a somewhat modern and twisted version of the fairy tale of the princess and the pea and was directed by Brother Christopher with Sister Henriette assisting.

Pat Chaudoir was outstanding in her portrayal of Queen Aggravain, a "gabby", dominating wife and over-protective mother who is determined to keep her son single by contriving impossible tests for all eligible princesses.

The audience repeatedly reacted to the amusing antics of Steve Ammel (King Sextimus the Silent), a love-starved husband whose speech is impaired by a spell cast on him years ago. Especially funny were his descriptive hand gestures in the song "Man to Man Talk."

Drama And Music

Paul Guenette's acting experience, stature and excellent facial expressions proved to be assets in his role as the submissive and henpecked Prince Dauntless the Drab. Vivacious Beth Knauf (Princess Winnifred) lives his drabby world, however, and shatters the royal one when, after swimming the moat, she boldly proclaims her availability and sings "Shy." She was especially humorous when what was thought to be a single pea hidden under 20 mattresses kept her awake all night.

Both dramatic and musical ability were displayed by the lovers Sharral DeGrave (Lady Larken) and Mark Primiski (Sir Harry). Their outstanding vocal quality and projection were shown in the musical exchange "In a Little While."

Other good performers were Bill St. Martin (Jester), Greg Gerou (Minstrel), and Bruce Viau (Wizard).

Continues Tonight

Colorful costumes, a lively chorus, and a unique stage arrangement which included austere, castle-type painting and two walls which jackknifed open to create an expanded effect, complemented the production which well deserved the standing ovation it received.

Musical accompaniment was provided by the stage band directed by Mrs. Rosemary LeMire and composed of students Mary Beth Lippold, piano; Ellen Durkin, organ; Ann Taylor, clarinet; Mary Gail Schram, bass clarinet; Connie Schoen, oboe; Linda Christiansen and Roseanna Otradovec, flute; Mary Lancour, French horn; Mike Wren, trumpet; Jim Wren and Gus Delforge, percussion.

Tonight at 8 in the Holy Name multi-purpose room the second of four consecutive performances is scheduled and the cast will include the alternate leads; Bob DeCamp (Prince Dauntless), Chris Nault (Princess Winnifred), Helen Kelly (Queen Aggravain), Pete Houle (King Sextimus), Pat Meehan (Lady Larken), Dave Oslund (Sir Harry), Mark Williams (Minstrel), and Mark Rappette (Jester).

The shortest day of the year in the Northeastern Hemisphere, Dec. 21, has a period of daylight only a few seconds shorter than the ten days or so around that date.

FIVE KILLED is the toll of this gruesome smashup near Prudenville, Mich., on State Route 18. Dead are a Prudenville teacher, three of his four children, and a Lake City man.

Pathet Lao Presents Peace Plan For Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Pathet Lao put forward a peace program for Laos today calling for an end to U.S. intervention, withdrawal of the Royal Lao government's forces from all areas "illegally occupied," resettlement of persons forcibly removed from their homes, and payment of compensation to them.

The proposal also called for a cease-fire, an all-party political conference to establish a provisional coalition government, and eventual election of a national assembly.

The Royal Lao government announced it would exchange diplomatic messages with the Communist leadership on the proposal.

An aide to the Laotian premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, said the government had received a message from Prince Souvannaphong, Souvanna Phouma's half-brother and the leader of the Pathet Lao. The message said Souvannaphong wanted to send a more detailed message which officials in Vientiane believe will outline the new peace proposal.

Souvanna sent a reply immediately to the Pathet Lao mission in Vientiane saying, "We will be glad to receive the message."

Souvanna's aide said he would have no immediate statement on the new proposal as outlined by the Pathet Lao in Hanoi.

The proposal included for the first time a standstill cease-fire and it was described by a U.S. diplomatic source today as a "very interesting" plan.

"We're all for the Laos settling problems among themselves," the source said.

The statement outlining the proposals was made in Hanoi by Phau Phimpachan, a member of the Pathet Lao Central Committee and director of its information bureau.

As received here, the proposal called for:

1. A standstill cease-fire.
2. A "consultative political conference composed of representatives of all Lao political parties" and establishment of a provisional coalition government.

Such a coalition government was established after the Geneva conference in 1962, but the Pathet Lao has boycotted it for years.

3. A demilitarized zone where the political conference and the coalition government would function.

4. A pledge by each party to refrain from reprisals against those who have collaborated with another party.

Radio Hanoi, in an English-language broadcast heard in Hong Kong, gave a somewhat different version of the proposals, including a demand for a halt to all U.S. "intervention and aggression" in Laos.

Area 4-H Clubs Represented At Leaders Meeting

Over 300 adult and teen 4-H leaders from around Michigan met on the Michigan State University campus at the 1970 4-H Leaderette, March 7-8, to share ideas and experiences.

Activities at Leaderette centered around the "We Listen — We Care" theme.

Among those attending from this area were Gladys Mercier, 155 N. DNR's Fish, Goose Planning Questioned

MENOMINEE — The plans of the Department of Natural Resources for controlling the commercial fishery and for taking over a large area in central Menominee County for a goose refuge have aroused anxious inquiry among the citizens and their legislative representatives.

The fishery control or zone management plan of the DNR was discussed at a meeting here Friday, attended by fishermen, DNR officers, and Senator Joseph Mack and Rep. John Payant.

Mack and Payant were there at the invitation of Roy Jensen, Escanaba, executive secretary of the Michigan Fish Producers.

Mack reported to the 50 or more commercial fishermen present at the meeting that he found "a complete difference of opinion" between information conveyed to him by the DNR and conditions that actually exist locally.

Not 'Leveling'

For example, said Mack, the commercial fishermen do have a market for rough fish, the DNR regulation would prevent the taking of these fish — and in the past the DNR had paid persons to rid the lake of rough fish.

Payant commented at the meeting that it is apparent the DNR intends to drive "every commercial fisherman out of business." Payant called this "another example of the department not leveling with the people."

Mack said that in Lansing the DNR told him the purpose of the zone management plan was to prevent the catching of lake trout and game fish, which he said was not true in the case of the Green Bay area. He suggested that a test, made by local commercial fishermen without cost to the state, be made to determine if the sport fish really needed protection from the commercial fishermen.

The case of Virgil Allgeyer, M-35 commercial fisherman, was discussed. Allgeyer is said by the DNR not to qualify for a license. Jensen pointed to Bureau of Commercial Fisheries records as proof that Allgeyer does qualify. DNR biologist John Scott, Lansing, said the records could be in error.

Scott told the group that smelt are classified as game fish and cannot be taken as rough fish. Mack countered: "I can assure they will be taken off the game fish list."

The DNR plans for a goose refuge in the Hayward Lakes region of Menominee County brought from Rep. Payant a demand for a complete investigation.

Sources Silent

Payant is a member of the House conservation committee but said that he has no information supplied to him from the DNR to answer the questions of people in the area.

Mack said he believes the DNR is wrong in not telling the people of Menominee County what it has in mind; and Gail Bowers, Stephenson, Menominee County extension director, said that he has been unsuccessful in getting the facts.

Congressman Philip Ruppe said that he had become aware of the plan only when he visited Menominee County late last week. He said he would contact federal authorities on what plans they might have for the mid-county recreation area, much of which is in private ownership.

State and federal sources continued silent on their plans as of today.

The Board of Review, in unanimous action last week, recommended to the assessor a reduction in property values in the area "if the dust problem is not solved in a satisfactory manner."

The Board is composed of Roy Jensen, chairman, Matt Smith, Mayor Cecil B. Chase, Ted Breitenbach, and Wesley Hansen, former mayor and councilman. City Clerk Don Guindon is clerk of the Board.

The 1971 amateur public links golf championship sanctioned by the U. S. Golf Association will be held at the Papago Golf Course in Phoenix, Ariz.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

People First

A proposed refuge for migrating geese covering 70 to 100 square miles in central Menominee County centered at Hayward Lake Southwest of Cedar River has aroused strong feeling from many residents of the area.

Several hundred persons turned out at Stephenson late in February to discuss the federal and state proposal and a couple hundred more showed up again at Stephenson last week to hear what Congressman Phil Ruppe had to say. Unfortunately, nobody seems to have all the answers.

The refuge apparently would be patterned after a similar area near Horicon in central Wisconsin to take some of the heat off Horicon during the migrating season. The basic reason for choosing the Hayward Lake area is its location on a major flyway for Canada geese, according to governmental sponsors. A considerable portion of the Mississippi Valley flock, which totals about 350,000 birds before hunting season, funnels south across the Upper Peninsula west of Lake Michigan. As many as 150,000 to 175,000 of the geese have gathered at Horicon, however, creating severe problems for the farmers in the area.

If the geese could be seduced into stopping at Hayward Lake, an area where the sponsors believe agricultural damage would be insignificant, the Horicon headache would be reduced while at the same time abundant hunting opportunities would be provided outside the refuge area and a wildlife spectacle unsurpassed anywhere in northern Michigan would be developed, according to DNR officials.

Local residents, however, aren't quite so sure about the proposal. Rightfully, they want to know about their own property rights and also want some other answers which haven't been provided to their satisfaction.

The Menominee Herald-Leader said editorially that "many people are beginning to realize that what the government intends to do is going to have a very drastic effect on their personal lives."

"What really is the unfortunate part is that a very important segment of agriculture in Menominee County is going to be put out of business by the plan. What is even worse is that families, some of whom have lived on their farms for three generations, are going to be put out of business and moved because some state and federal game experts got the idea that they needed a stopping place for geese making their migratory flights."

As yet, details the public has received on the plans are somewhat incomplete. Ruppe promised the Stephenson meeting that he would have a representative from the Department of Interior come to Stephenson to explain the federal government's role and that he (Ruppe) also would do some legwork for the land owners in Washington and make a report.

Rep. John Payant (R-Kingsford) has "demanded" details of the project from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

It all sounds very angry and apparently, judging from news reports, the residents of the area have some reason to be concerned about their futures and property.

But the prospect of a vast, new wildlife refuge in the Upper Peninsula remains interesting and exciting. The project, however, must be approached openly and cautiously. And ultimately it must be weighed against some other vital factors, particularly the effects on the residents of the area.

It is with these people where the first consideration should lie.

Sale of $3,950,000 in revenue bonds to finance the expansion of Shiras Steam-Electric Plant at Marquette is scheduled Monday, March 23. The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission notified the Marquette Board of Light and Power that it had approved the amended revenue bond application and the board, convened in special session on another matter, immediately confirmed the bond sale date.

Chief Ervin Mouritsen of the Menominee Police Department has lifted the parking ban from 2:30 to 6 a. m. Motorists will be responsible for having their car off the streets in case of heavy snow or blizzard conditions until April 15.

After two previous unsuccessful attempts to find buyers for $2,180,000 in bonds, the Forest Park School District in Iron County was presented with five separate sets of bids on the issue at a special meeting of the board of education at Crystal Falls. Accepted as the low bidder on the construction bond issue was the Bank of the Commonwealth of Detroit, at an interest rate of 6.7492 per cent.

A major new water quality control facility is now in full operation of the Sault Ste. Marie steelworks of the Algoma Steel Corp. Ltd. The announcement noted that new oil and mill scale separation basins have been under construction since February, 1969. Total estimated cost for this pollution control facility is $850,000. The basins are designed to handle an average discharge of 50,000 gallons of water per minute into the St. Mary's River.

Motorists have been seeing upwards of 100 deer along the Betsy and Gay Roads in the Keweenaw Peninsula, where the Keweenaw Sportsmen's Club has been placing alfalfa in deer feeding stations this winter. Beginning in January and continuing through March, club members travel twice weekly to the Gay and Betsy areas to replenish about 25 roadside feeding stations.

Attempts to prevent further ice damage to finger piers in the Menominee Marina are underway. Shifting ice has caused pilings to rise causing the small piers to twist and buckle. City employees are cutting of the pilings to prevent further buckling, and to allow the piers to settle. The Michigan Waterways Commission has agreed to repair the damaged piers and to extend a small floating pier to the same length as the larger steel one, at no cost to the city.

Evidence Indicates Inflation Continues

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

I'd like to believe the Nixon fight on inflation is taking hold. The evidence, though, is still the other way.

Two doubting economists, Pierre Rinfret and Eliot Janeway, held a "strategy meeting" in New York the other day to consult, not with their brother economists, but with business people. Their conclusion, after hacking things about, was that a majority of our economists know how to talk about statistics, which are something that happened two months ago, but don't know anything about the common sense of either business or life itself.

The confirmation of this negative view of most of our economic wizards is glaringly pointed up in the most recent business letter of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

On page one the Chase economists say there is a "significant" slowdown in the U. S. economy. So it's good news, then, for the inflation fighters! Alas, on page two of the same bank letter, there is a long report on the "persistent rise in capital spending." The Chase sees this as a paradox: why should businessmen be borrowing at high rates to build new plants—which put people to work at high construction costs—when consumer markets are supposedly slackening off?

But it isn't really a paradox. The business that lets itself become encumbered with an antiquated plant won't last very long.

You pay high for such help, and so the incomes of skilled people don't drop. These incomes remain a pressure on prices in the store.

The one thing that is in short supply is houses. Rents will continue to rise, as much as 30 per cent. So will the cost of financing a home.

The old rule of thumb is that the average man spends a quarter of his income to keep a roof over his head. This is the biggest item in the individual family's inflationary budget. As long as rents are high, inflation will stay.

The Chase economists contradict their remarks about the "significant slowdown" when they say that public utilities and communications companies have no excess capacity and face a rapidly growing demand. Public utilities construction, so Chase says, will rise by some 15 per cent over last year. Communications, commercial and otherwise, will spend 13 per cent more on plant and equipment in 1970. Business as a whole will account for a 9.3 per cent construction rise, down a bit from an 11.1 increase in 1969.

The small drop in business construction is mainly due to a fall-off in mining activities and in transportation. Perversely, the lack of addition to our transportation services is in itself inflationary: scarcity of any service always adds to costs.

As for a depression in mining, it would have mixed results. The less gold there is, the less the available backing for currency and credit. But a shortage in other metals means higher prices, and more inflation.

These are the musings of a curbstone economist. As an historian of American business, however, I am sure of my ground in saying that there has never been a depression when capital spending was high.

This is one opinion on which both the classical and the Marxian economists, whether curbstone or not, have always agreed.

Jay Delay, president, said the Huron Valley National Bank and directors are aware of nationally major bank has as yet taken the step. Nevertheless, he said, "This kind of initiative is needed. We don't expect widespread slashes in interest rates. However, some easing of funds should contribute to avoiding a further softening of the economy."

DeLay said Huron National, which is 6 years old, has total assets of more than $43 million and ranks 1,301 in the nation.

Opening lead—king of diamonds.

Here is a neat hand played by Adam Meredith, British star. The bidding was nothing to write home about, but that's the way it went. Meredith succeeded in making four spades by a most unusual method of play.

West led the diamond king, which South ducked, and continued with the queen. East discarded a heart and Meredith won the diamond with the ace.

He then cashed the A-K-Q of spades, learning that West, who had shown up with six diamonds, also had four spades.

Meredith could count only nine sure tricks at this point. He had four losers—a spade, a heart and two diamonds—and his task was to try to eliminate one of them. This would have been easy to accomplish had the clubs been divided 3-3, but Meredith realized that this was unlikely to be the case.

After long thought, Meredith concluded that his best chance lay in trying to convert his spade loser into a winner by ruffing a diamond! If he could perform this seemingly magical feat, he could produce a tenth trick.

Accordingly, he led a heart to the king at trick six. Had West shown out, it would have meant he had three clubs and that the contract was unbeatable. But West followed suit and Meredith then cashed the A-K of clubs.

When West followed to both clubs, Meredith knew the contract was in the bag. He led another club towards dummy's Q-7. It would have done West no good to ruff, so he discarded a diamond. Dummy won with the seven. When East followed with the ten, Meredith discarded his last diamond.

East was now forced to return a heart. Again West could not gain by ruffing, so he discarded another diamond. Meredith thereupon won the heart in dummy, ruffed a diamond, and thus acquired his tenth trick.

Bonnie Forgets Dog Needs Proper Care

Dear Ann Landers: Our 16-year-old daughter begged us for a puppy for her birthday. Bonnie promised to train him, walk him, feed him and be totally responsible for all his needs. So we bought Bonnie a Boxer puppy. She named him Plato.

Plato chews everything in sight, and vomits all over. He has spotted the sofa, the living room chairs, and ruined every rug in the house. The place smells like a kennel and no amount of airing seems to help.

Plato cries all night and no one can sleep — no one except Bonnie, that is. Nothing bothers her. She is in school all day so I'm the one who walks Plato and cleans up after him. When Bonnie does come home she is too busy on the telephone to feed her puppy so I have to do that, too.

Last night we had a heated argument and I told Bonnie I was giving Plato away. She became hysterical and made me feel like a murderer. I love my daughter and I don't want to break her heart. Please tell me what to do. — Nervis Reck

Dear Reck: Do yourself, Plato, and Bonnie a favor and give the puppy to people who will care for it properly. Bonnie has not kept her word. If you let her hysterics trap you into keeping the pup, you've got a geranium in your cranium, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's bookkeeper quit last May after working for him for five years. I was not unhappy about her leaving because she was a trouble-maker and I never liked her.

Two weeks after Jennie quit, her husband came to the house on his lunch hour to tell me "something important." I almost died of shock when he told me Jennie was pregnant by my husband — and he was thrilled because he had always wanted a family and was physically unable to father a child. He then admitted it was HIS idea — that he had talked his wife into seducing my husband and he thought I ought to know the facts.

The baby is four months old now and from what I hear she is a very beautiful child.

I told my husband about the visit that very night. He denied everything — called the guy "nuts," and said Jennie was involved with another man in the company and that he had fathered the child.

The whole thing has made me physically ill. I believe my husband, but I keep wondering how much gossip there is. I want to leave town but my husband has a good job and it would mean starting over. We have three young children and I don't want them hurt by this. What should we do? — Richmond

Dear Richmond: If you don't feel better in 60 days, I suggest that you and your husband seriously consider moving to another city. Whatever he loses financially will be worth it in terms of your health, and peace of mind for your family.

Confidential to What To Do?: If's time your neighbor found an unmarried "humanitarian" to cry on. Hand your husband the names of a counselor, a clergyman and a therapist and suggest that he give the list to the lady.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Escanaba has 13 inches of snow and the ice has attained a thickness of 35 inches.

The commercial department of the Escanaba High School will be represented in the second annual interscholastic shorthand and typewriting contest to be held in the city of Lansing. At the initial contest last year (twelve) state high schools entered, and ninety-three students participated. Fifty-one net words per minute won the typewriting championship.

Officials Proclaim Races 'Success'

MANISTIQUE—"A success". That was the word today from officials of the Manistique Snowmobile Association after two days of snowmobile competition Saturday and Sunday in the 2nd Annual Great Lakes Championships.

A field of 150 drivers took place in the oval races Saturday on the high-banked track in the central park development area and Sunday on the scramble track along the south shores of Indian Lake.

(Complete results will be published in Tuesday's edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.)

Racing got underway Saturday morning and concluded Sunday afternoon.

The field featured some of the top drivers in the Midwest, including Doug Hart, defensive back of the Green Bay Packers who is a member of an Arctic Cat racing team, and Roger Hoyle of Linwood, pole-sitter for this year's International "500" Snowmobile Race at Sault Ste. Marie and leader of the race until he blew an engine.

General chairman of the event was Jess Gutierrez.

Race drivers had high praise for the oval track, which featured high banked curves and allowed almost wide-open competition.

There were no serious injuries reported in the two days of racing, although two drivers required treatment for minor injuries in accidents Sunday at Indian Lake.

The racing was sanctioned by the United States Snowmobile Association.

Mrs. Therrien Dies Sunday

Mrs. Peter (Aurore) Therrien, 81, of 328 S. 11th St. died at 11 p.m. Sunday at her home following a lingering illness.

She was born July 5, 1888 in St. Hermas, Quebec, Canada and had resided in Flat Rock for many years. She had lived in Escanaba since 1935.

She is survived by her husband; two sisters, Mrs. Arthur (Valentine) Tourangeau and Mrs. Phillip (Dorina) Beauchamp of Escanaba; three brothers, Albert Charbonneau of Rochester, Minn., Hildage C. of Detroit and Arthur C. of Milwaukee.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Complete funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Wednesday with the Rev. Fabian Gerstle officiating and burial will be in the Escanaba Township Cemetery.

Timber Cuttings Up In Peninsula

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Natural Resources reports commercial timber cuttings in Northern Michigan in January set a new high for the month. Nearly 22.5 million board feet of timber was cut, producing $119,000 in revenue for the department. This compared with department revenues of $101,400 for timber rights during the same month four years ago. The commercial value of the timber was estimated at $10.8 million.

School Bill Aid Accord Far Off

LANSING (AP)—It may take about four weeks for a conference committee to iron out Senate - House differences in the school aid bill, House Speaker William Ryan, D - Detroit, said today.

The house passed the bill last Thursday at a $1.2 billion level, higher than the version adopted by the Senate. In his weekly news conference, Ryan said he did not expect a reconsideration move tonight would meet with any success.

"This bill has been kicked around in the House long enough," Ryan said. "A settlement can be made in conference."

Asked about the time required for a conference committee to reach agreement, Ryan said it was hard to predict "but let's start at about four weeks."

House action is pending on a bill to hike the state income tax .9 per cent to a total of 3.5 per cent. Ryan, while saying he hoped there could be a vote on it this week, expressed a desire for the House to first take up questions of unemployment compensation, intermediate school districts and consolidation of school districts.

Ryan said people demanding property tax reductions have to understand that it will take an increase in the income tax to make up the loss in state funds.

He added that if the income tax increase is accompanied by a lowering of property taxes "we are not really increasing taxes."

Ryan also said "legislators should be commended rather than condemned" for moving toward greater state responsibility for public school financing.

Jerry Erickson Taken By Death

Jerry A. Erickson, 78, of the Bishop Noa Home died at 2 p.m. Sunday at St. Francis Hospital following a lengthy illness.

He was born May 3, 1891 in Lake City, Mich. and spent his early years in Chicago. He lived in Kenosha, Wis. for many years and had resided in Escanaba for the past 10 years.

He was employed as a laborer for the Anaconda Brass Co. of Kenosha until retiring 13 years ago. Mr. Erickson was a veteran of World War I and a member of the VFW.

He is survived by his widow, the former Louise Pachl; one sister, Mrs. A. J. (Hilma) Salz of Chicago.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 12 noon Wednesday at the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Raymond Hoefgen officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to Victor A. Peacock, Milwaukee, Wayne F. DeGrand, Bark River Rte. 1, John F. Ruleau, Cedar River, Howard W. Olsen, Bay View, all for speeding; Michael Mullin, 110 S. 17th St., failing to exercise due care; and to David B. Mannebach, 523 S. 10th St., disobeying a traffic signal.

A meeting of the Hiawatha VFW Auxiliary is scheduled for tonight at the post clubrooms beginning at 8. Mrs. Harriet Larsen and her committee will be in charge of refreshments.

Public high school religion will be held at Holy Name High School Wednesday at 7 p.m.

A meeting of the Flat Rock PTA will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the school's multi-purpose. The lunch program will be discussed and a display of handicraft will be shown.

Success Noted

MIDLAND (AP) — Herbert Dow, chairman of a drive to raise funds for an $11.5-million public health center in Midland has announced the drive was a success.

Dow said the drive received $1,592,000 in contributions from individuals, which added to the $10 million donated by corporations and foundations, will finance the center.

A radiator cover with many tiny holes, between Sylvia's face and the sun, created the effect of having many pin-hole lenses project the eclipse onto her face. The picture was taken by Joe Lippincott of the Detroit Free Press. (AP Wirephoto)

Diocesan Women Hold Spring Board Meeting

GARDEN — "The Mercy Movement," a volunteer project to help elderly people with everyday tasks and emergency needs at Sacred Heart Parish, Munising, has been catalogued at the Office of Voluntary Action, Washington, D.C., as an example of a successful community project in which the quality of living has been improved by voluntary action.

This announcement was made during the annual two-day spring pre-convention board meeting of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, held recently in Marygrave Renewal Center, Garden.

Established at the request of President Richard M. Nixon and under the chairmanship of George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, the Office of Voluntary Action has invited the National Council of Catholic Women to furnish projects in individual communities which might be duplicated elsewhere so that volunteer groups might benefit from each other's experience.

Gladstone Project

Also cited was a Gladstone community project which provided educational help for the surviving Therrian family orphans, who were victims of a house fire.

Written details of the two Upper Peninsula projects were submitted to the National Volunteer Action Committee by Mrs. Alban Schumacher, Menominee, president of MDCCW, who presided at the board meeting.

Rev. William Richards, Diocesan spiritual moderator, who was recently transferred to Marygrove, opened the meeting with a prayer and the Rev. James Donnelly, Iron Mountain, gave the welcome.

Meet With Board

Acting on the report by Mrs. Betty Carr, Sault Ste. Marie, and her committee, the board voted to give delegates attending the Marquette Diocesan convention in Houghton an opportunity to meet with the Diocesan Board to ask questions, present resolutions or air grievances. The delegates will meet with the board prior to the convention which is scheduled Saturday, April 11.

To save time, any certified delegate may present two written copies of her business with the Board at the door the day of the convention, or mail the copies to Mrs. Schumacher.

Purpose of the delegate-board member meeting is to create interest and to clarify any questions or problems that are of a general interest to the women of the Diocese.

Program Goals

In other business, Mrs. Mildred Gerstner, Menominee, presented a resume of her study of what constitutes a parish organization and what should be accomplished at Deanery and Board meetings. Her resume included the intended goals of programs and duties of each of the officers.

Two Masses, celebrated by the Rev. Richards and Donnelly, were offered during the Board meeting at Marygrove and Holy Communion was received under both species.

B&PW Meeting, Card Party Set Tuesday

The Escanaba B&PW Club will hold a dinner meeting at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday at the Sherman Hotel. President Angeline Hakes will conduct the business meeting which will precede the dessert card party at 8 p.m.

Tickets for the card party may be obtained from club members or at the Mata Brown Shoppe. Proceeds from the event will be used for the club's welfare fund. The Finance committee, with Mrs. Nancy Petry, chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Hawkeyes Close Big Ten Season Without Defeat

CHICAGO (AP) — A proud Iowa team that went on a record busting spree in winning the Big Ten basketball championship has momentum meriting considerable respect in its NCAA tournament bid.

In what should be an explosive, high-scoring engagement, the Hawkeyes (19-5) take on towering Jacksonville (24-1) in the first round of the Midwest Regional at Columbus Thursday. Jacksonville advanced by trouncing Western Kentucky 106-96 at Dayton Saturday.

Iowa closed its regular campaign by out-gunning Northwestern 115-101 with balanced scoring led by Joan Johnson's 32 points. It was the Hawkeyes' 16th straight victory, including a 14-0 conference record which made them the first unbeaten Big Ten champion since Ohio

State in 1961. Illinois also did it in 1943.

Along the way, Iowa set records of 1,474 points in league action for a 105.3 average and 573 field goals. The old marks were 1,359 points by Purdue in 1965 and 534 baskets by Illinois in 1965.

"Iowa will really be tough in the NCAA," said Northwestern Coach Brad Snyder. "They never quit when they are behind—they come right at you."

Hawkeye Coach Ralph Miller praised Johnson and said "he is the Big Ten's most valuable player this season, or there isn't any. He is the one who led us to the Big Ten championship."

Johnson said that this year "Coach Miller took the wraps off me and really let me go. I was shooting better from the outside and playing with more confidence."

"At times this year," Johnson confided, "we were lazy after getting a big lead. But ahead or not, we've always been able to come back strong when we have to."

Purdue, defending champion, finished as runner-up with an 11-3 record. In downing Minnesota 48-44 in the finale, the Boilermakers' All-American Rick Mount was held to 22 points. But he still became the greatest scoring machine in Big Ten history by amassing 1,461 points in his three-year varsity career.

This erased the only other existing point-producing record on the books, topping by 10 the total Indiana's Don Schlundt accumulated in four years in the early 1950's when freshmen were eligible. Mount did it in 42 games and Schlundt in 60.

Ohio State, sharing third at 8-6 with Illinois, by beating Wisconsin, also posted records. The Bucks had a national high of 54.4 per cent on floor shots in 24 games. They set a Big Ten accuracy mark by making 54.6 per cent of their field goals compared with the old record of 51.5 by the 1968 Bucks.

From the free throw line, OSU hit on 452 of 559 for .808 to become the first NCAA team ever to play a full season making more than 80 per cent from the line.

In other windup games Saturday, Michigan (5-9) defeated Indiana (3-11) 108-99 with Rudy Tomjanovich collecting 33 points and 22 rebounds; and Michigan State (5-9) downed Illinois 81-76 although its super sophomore, Ralph Simpson, was benched by injury.

Women Schedule Dartball Tourney

Due to the bad weather last week, the regularly scheduled games of the Women's Church Dartball League were postponed, except for the Presbyterian-Calvary Lutheran game, which was played as scheduled.

All of last week's games should be made up by Tuesday, March 10, and any other postponed games that have not been made up should also be played this week.

The tournament will begin March 17 with the following schedule in effect: at Presbyterian — Presbyterian vs. Bethany, First Lutheran vs. Memorial Methodist; at Christ the King — C. K. 2 vs. C. K. 1; Calvary Lutheran vs. R.L.D.S.; at Central Methodist — Immanuel Lutheran vs. Central Methodist.

Winning teams at the Presbyterian will immediately play their second round games upon completion of the first round games.

Eben Defeats Rock In Tourney Finale

By DON HOWES

ROCK — Rock High, the Cinderella team of Class D circles, tumbled off the high school basketball tournament bandwagon Saturday night, as it fell victim to the hot-shooting Eben Eagles, 77-62, in the championship game of the Class D District tournament here.

The Eagles now advance into regional warfare where they will meet the Baraga Vikings next Thursday in the Class D semi-finals at Northern Michigan University.

Eben, sharp from the field, choked off a second half rally by the Little Giants to nail down the verdict.

The Eagles leading all the way, jumped off to a commanding 19-7 lead in the first quarter, behind the hot shooting of Dale Ruska and Joe Goin, who netted 14 of the teams' 19 points.

Eben spurted again in the second quarter behind a wicked full court press, which caused the Little Giants many turnovers, to outscore Rock 18-12 and to give the Eagles a 35-19 halftime advantage.

The Little Giants battled back on even terms with the Eagles in the third period and still trailed by 16 points, 53-37, entering the final frame. Tom Lippens lead the Rock comeback with six points.

Action got a little heavier in the final frame, as the Little Giants came within 11, 65-54, with 4:03 remaining in the game. The Eagles continued to fight back making nine straight free throws in the stretch to claim the victory.

Tim Connors, Rock's fine junior guard and Lippens led Rock's final drive with eight points apiece.

Lippens took game honors with 23 points while Connors netted 14 for the Little Giants. Eben was paced by Leo Niemi with 20, Alex Freberg 16 and Goin with 15.

The Eagles shot at a 46 per cent clip making 28 of 61 attempts, while Rock made 25 of 75 for 33 per cent.

Notre Dame Wins Opener; To Battle Kentucky Next

By The Associated Press

"It's always nice to play Adolph," says Notre Dame basketball coach Johnny Dee, who facetiously compares playing Baron Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats "to taking five Canadians to Texas to play hockey."

Actually, Dee, whose Fighting Irish won their way to the NCAA Regional Tourney at Columbus, Ohio, by routing Ohio U. 112-82, was recalling an earlier verbal exchange with the Baron of the Bluegrass when he made the crack about hockey in Texas.

With Kentucky likely to move up to the No. 1 ranking this week, Thursday's regional at Columbus pitting the Southeastern Conference champions against Notre Dame shapes up as the glamor match in college basketball's post-season play-offs.

Kentucky, currently No. 2, finished its regular season Saturday night by drubbing Tennessee 86-69. Hours earlier, Rupp watched on television as Notre Dame, behind Austin Carr's NCAA tourney record 61 points, whipped Ohio U.

"I was of the opinion that Ohio U. was a much stronger team," said Rupp, shooting for his fifth national championship. Kentucky beat the Irish 102-100 in Louisville, which was supposed to be a neutral site but was actually almost like the Wildcats' home court.

UCLA's one loss last week may drop the Bruins out of the No. 1 ranking and vault Kentucky, currently No. 2, into the top spot in the final rankings.

"Kentucky is certainly deserving of the No. 1 ranking," Dee said. "This is one of Kentucky's best teams. They can run, shoot inside or out and rebound as well as anyone in the country."

Incidentally, Baron Adolph, while admitting Notre Dame is "much improved," quietly added: "It's just possible we're a little stronger, too."

Kentucky takes a 25-1 record to Columbus while Notre Dame is now 21-6.

The Wildcats and Fighting Irish will be joined at Columbus by sixth-ranked Jacksonville, 24-1, and No. 8 Iowa, 19-4.

Jacksonville, with 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore scoring 30 points, beat Western Kentucky 109-96 Saturday night in the first round of NCAA playoffs. Iowa won the Big Ten title and ended its season Saturday night a 115-101 victor over Northwestern.

Long Beach State qualified to meet UCLA in the Far West regional by whipping Weber State 92-73 in a first-round NCAA game at Provo, Utah, Saturday night.

UCLA, which may lose its No. 1 rating this week following a Friday night 87-86 loss to Southern California, avenged that defeat Saturday night by thrashing the Trojans 91-78. It was the final regular season game for the Uclans, who have won the NCAA championship three straight years.

Third-ranked South Carolina finds itself in the role of tourney host—and nothing else—after losing 42-39 in double overtime to North Carolina State Saturday night.

Carney Nips Tigers For District Crown

By MIKE UTT

POWERS — Of all the high school basketball tournament games played in the Upper Peninsula this past week, perhaps none can compare with the shocking result and dramatic finish of the finals of the Class D district tournament at the Powers-Spalding High School gymnasium Saturday night, where the Carney Wolves registered a 41-40 victory over the Powers-Spalding Tigers.

Carney finished the regular season with an overall 9-9 mark and wound up in a tie for fifth place in the Skyline Conference standings with a 7-9 record, while Powers was the Skyline Conference champion with a 15-1 record and finished the regular season with an overall 15-3 mark.

Both teams had defeated their first opponents in the district tourney by big margins, Carney upending Hermansville 63-50 and Powers registering an 80-59 victory over Bark River, to gain the right to meet each other for the district championship and a trip to the regional tourney this week at Marquette.

Carney took an 11-9 lead at the end of the first period and stayed on top until there were just 51 seconds left in the game. At that point, high scoring Dick Smith of the Tigers picked off a stray Carney pass and raced downcourt for a layup which put Powers ahead by a 40-39 margin. The Tigers then had an opportunity to wrap up the victory a few seconds later when Bob Mileski stepped to the free throw line for two shots, but Mileski missed both shots and Carney came up with the ball.

With just 11 seconds left on the clock, Ed Jenkins, who had not scored a point all night long for the Wolves, took a shot that hit the rim and bounced out, but the referees detected a Powers' player with his arm in the net when the ball hit the rim and called goal tending, which put Carney back out on top 41-40.

Powers got the ball out of bounds and came downcourt hoping to get off one more shot. Ed Benson, Carney 6 foot 5 inch sophomore center, then managed to get tied up with a Powers player and the ball and a jump ball in front of the Carney basket was called. Benson outjumped his opponent and slapped the ball down to the other end of the court to end the game.

Talented Soph

The headsup play on the jump ball was not the only thing the talented sophomore did all night. He finished the game with 18 points and 18 rebounds, both of which were highs for both teams, and also did a tremendous job on defense, where he covered the middle of the Carney zone like a blanket.

Coach Ron Solberg of Carney said after the game that no individual deserved credit for the victory, and how right he was. Although Benson threw in the most points of any player in the game, he got help from John Perras, who came up with nine points, most of which came in critical situations, and Bob Polfus, who scored only three points, but held Smith to just 12 points for the night and only four in the first half. Smith was the top scorer in the Escanaba area this season with a 26.2 point per game average.

Powers jumped out to an early 6-0 lead against the jittery Wolves, but Carney fought back to take a 9-8 lead at the 1:08 mark of the first period on a field goal by Benson. Powers tied it up again on a free throw by Kim Riedy before Perras connected with just three seconds left in the period.

Lead At Half

The Tigers tied it up again early in the second period on a field goal by Riedy, but Benson hit a field goal and Don Anderson came up with a big three-point play to give Carney a 16-11 lead. From then on the Wolves just kept scoring points and lead at the halftime intermission by a 25-17 margin.

Benson picked up his fourth foul of the game and was given a rest with 3:07 left on the clock in the third quarter and with Carney ahead by its biggest margin of the night, 33-22. Smith put the Tigers pack in the game then with six straight points before Perras scored again for Carney and Lee Vincent threw in one for Powers making the score at the end of the third quarter 35-30.

A pair of field goals by Riedy after a tree throw by Polfur put Powers within two points, 36-34. Riedy then fouled out a few seconds later and Carney got a free throw from Perras and a field goal by Benson, putting Carney ahead by five again, 39-34.

Powers Rallies

Then Powers got field goals by Vincent and Don Sharkey before Smith stole the pass and scored the layup to put the Tigers out in front for the first time since the first quarter.

Smith's 12 points paced the Powers' attack, while Riedy had 11 points and Vincent 10. Powers was successful on 17 of 54 field goal attempts and Carney was 15 for 50 from the outside, but the Wolves made up the difference at the free throw line by making 11 of 18 tries while Powers was getting just six of 16. Carney also held a 35-28 edge on the boards.

Carney will now meet Ewen-Trout Creek in the first game of the regional tournaments at Marquette on Tuesday night.

Badger Trackmen Capture Conference Indoor Crown

EAST LANSING (AP)—Wisconsin hasn't rested on its track laurels for the last three years and after capturing its fourth straight Big Ten indoor title the Badgers still can't rest—the nationals begin Friday in Detroit.

"We did better than I expected, and I only wish we had a week to rest before the nationals," said first-year Wisconsin coach Bob Brennan Saturday. "But we'll be there and give our best."

Lunn Triumphs In Golf Event

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—"I thought I had made the putt," said Arnold Palmer. "It was in the cup and out."

"I thought he'd made it," said Bob Lunn. "I just couldn't imagine Arnold Palmer three-putting from that distance."

But Palmer did. A national television audience watched while the golfing idol of millions blew a four-foot putt on the final hole and let Lunn escape with the $30,000 first prize Sunday in the weather-plagued Florida Citrus Invitational Golf Tournament.

Palmer and the bull-strong Lunn, 16 years younger and 30 pounds heavier than Arnie, were locked in a head and head duel for 36 holes on the gruelling final day.

Palmer had a 64, eight under par, in the morning round and moved into the lead, with Lunn just one stroke back after a 67. Palmer had a final 72 and Lunn a 70 for 271, 17 under a par. The double round was forced by the rained-out first round Thursday.

The lead see-sawed back and forth between Palmer and Lunn all day, and no more than a single stroke ever separated them. And, going into the final 18 holes, it became a two-man race.

Palmer took the lead with a birdie on the 13th, then bogeyed the 15th from a trap and it was all even again. He made a bad second shot, blasted out strong and missed a 25 foot putt.

But the high drama was saved for the 18th. They came to it all even. Lunn put his drive in the trees on the right. Palmer was down the fairway. Arnie pitched on about 35 feet from the pin while Lunn bent a beautiful shot around the trees but left himself a 70-footer.

Palmer ran his 35-foot birdie putt four feet by the hole, then missed it coming back and had to settle for a tie for second with Australian Bob Stanton, who had a final 68 for 272.

Dick Lotz had a final 68 and was alone at 275. Tied at 276 were Tom Weiskopf, Tom Shaw and Dick Crawford, with Bruce Crampton, Bruce Devlin and Howie Johnson at 277. Jack Nicklaus finished well back at 280.

Celtics' Chances Fade After Loss To Bucks

By The Associated Press

The National Basketball Association playoffs without the Boston Celtics? Why that's almost like cake without ice cream at a kid's birthday party.

But it appears that only a miracle will put the defending NBA champs in this year's playoffs.

The Johnny-come-lately Milwaukee Bucks, behind Lew Alcindor's 44 points, whipped the Celtics 138-134 Sunday night and all but killed Boston's playoff hopes.

Boston is now two games away from elimination from the playoffs for the first time in 21 years. Any combination of two Philadelphia victories or Boston defeats will eliminate the Celtics, NBA champs for 11 of the past 13 seasons.

Philadelphia, meanwhile, nipped New York 133-116, Baltimore nudged Seattle 109-106, Phoenix thrashed Atlanta 130-119 and Los Angeles singed Cincinnati 144-116.

In Saturday's NBA action, New York beat Philadelphia 111-104, Detroit defeated San Diego 134-126 and Cincinnati shaded San Francisco 121-119.

Sunday's games in the American Basketball Association saw Carolina edge New York 107-105, Indiana down Dallas 131-114, Pittsburgh clout Miami 135-121 and Denver whip New Orleans 108-103 in double overtime.

Alcindor stuffed a shot with 1:28 left and the Bucks went on to beat the Celtics on their homecourt. Fred Crawford's layup and two free throws gave the Bucks a four-point lead and Milwaukee pulled away.

The Celtics canned seven straight field goals to go ahead 79-71 in the third period and then nursed the lead until early in the fourth quarter. John Havlicek scored 43 in a losing effort for Boston.

Red Wings Get Tie With Stars

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings sent a 47-shot barrage at the Minnesota nets Sunday night trying to tear apart their winless streak against the North Stars—the only team the Wings haven't topped this season.

But lanky goalie Cesare Maniago fended off all but two Detroit shots and left the Red Wings with a 2-2 tie in the National Hockey League standstill.

Detroit lost the first encounter with Minnesota 3-2, the night Bill Gadsby was fired as the Wings' coach. The following four confrontations were all ties.

In other NHL action Sunday, Boston shut out Montreal 2-0, which could put Montreal in danger of missing the East Division playoffs for the first time in 22 years. Also New York tied Pittsburgh 0-0, Chicago edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Los Angeles tied Oakland 2-2.

In Saturday's games, Minnesota battered Toronto 5-3, Detroit dropped Montreal 4-2, St. Louis tied Pittsburgh 2-2, Los Angeles tripped Oakland 5-3 and Boston tied Philadelphia 5-5.

The tie Sunday night ran Detroit's unbeaten streak to six games.

Frank Mahovlich scored his 28th goal and defenseman Dale Rolfe got his third for Detroit. North Star Tommy Williams netted his ninth and Bill Goldsworthy added his 29th when Detroit was two men short.

Maniago had been on the bench during the last two Minnesota games while Gump Worsley, the team's new goalie, got his chance. But Maniago was brilliant in three earlier ties with Detroit this season so he was put back in to stop the Red Wings. He did.

Detroit outshot Minnesota 47-28.

The Canadiens seemed listless against Boston, rarely testing Bruin goalie Ed Johnston, who was making his first start in two weeks.

Both Bruin goals came in the first period by John McKenzie and Ken Hodge and both came on tips-ins of Bobby Orr slap shots. The two points gave Orr, the NHL's scoring leader, 97 for the season.

The Canadiens were so desperate to ignite an attack that they lifted goalie Rogatien Vachon for an extra skater in the final minute despite the two-goal deficit. Usually, teams lift their netminders when they are one goal behind, hoping the extra skater will help salvage a tie.

Goalie Al Smith held the Rangers at bay and stretched stumbling New York's winless string to six games. The shutout was the second in the last three games for New York which had established an NHL record by scoring in 130 consecutive games until last week. The Rangers have managed just one goal in the last 11 periods.

Jim Pappin fired a pair of goals as Chicago edged into third place in the East by topping Philadelphia. After Eric Nesterenko made it 3-0, the Flyers staged a late rally, getting goals by Larry Hillman and Jim Johnson in the final three minutes.

But goalie Tony Esposito, deprived of a 12th shutout by the late goals, stiffened and held Philadelphia off to get the victory.

Dick Duff of Los Angeles and Ted Hampson of Oakland traded goals 75 seconds apart in the third period as the Kings and Seals battled to their tie.

Oakland, winless in seven games, remained tied with Minnesota for fourth place and a playoff berth in the West.

Astros, Royals Play Marathon Tilt Sunday

By The Associated Press

Houston and Kansas City played only one exhibition baseball game Sunday but the totals looked like a triple-header.

The Astros finally won 20-19 after the teams combined for 54 hits good for 100 bases, eight home runs, and sent 12 pitchers to the showers at Terry Field in Fort Myers, Fla. The entire production took three hours, 21 minutes.

Natural elements played a part, too. A 20-mile an hour wind blowing to center field no doubt contributed to some of the homers. Puddles in the outfield left by a 4 1/2-inch overnight rain helped the hits fall in.

The game upstaged the world champion New York Mets' 17-7 rout of the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. Those two teams totaled only 35 hits and used eight pitchers, including Tom Seaver, the Mets' Cy Young winner, who worked three innings. Seaver allowed two runs on four hits.

Dennis Menke and Doug Rader provided the heroics for the Astros. Manke drove in seven runs and Rader, 6-for-6, including three doubles and a homer, added five more. Pat Kelly had two doubles and a homer for Kansas City.

Rookie shortstop Ted Martinez and veteran Ron Swoboda starred for the Mets. Martinez drove in six runs with two homers, one of them a grand slam. Swoboda also blasted two homers, good for five more runs.

Voters To Get Help In Using Voting Machines

The Gladstone community is invited to attend a voting machine demonstration conducted by the League of Women Voters this week.

On April 6, Gladstone, for the first time, will use voting machines. In order to facilitate their use, the League will conduct a public meeting at which Howard Keeton, Gladstone's city manager, will demonstrate their use.

Mrs. Robert Haack, voter service chairman, is in charge of the meeting.

The League is a national, nonpartisan organization whose purpose is to encourage informed citizen participation in government. It neither supports nor opposes candidates running for office, nor does it line up with or against a political party. However, League members, as individuals, are encouraged to work actively for the candidate or party of their choice.

Its officers and directors, on the other hand, refrain from partisan activities while in office.

Basically, the League's work is divided into two parts: voters service and League program. As part of its voters service work, the League provides opportunities for voters to learn new voting procedures.

The meeting will be held at the City Hall on Thursday, March 12 at 7:30 p.m. Coffee will be served.

Election Board To Be Appointed By Commission

The City Commission will appoint an election board for the municipal election and schedule a meeting to certify nominating petitions when it meets in regular session today at 7:30 p. m. at the City Hall.

Other items on the agenda include a discussion of a letter from the Planning Commission; signs at west city limits; a letter from the fire department; Mayor Exchange Day of Michigan Week; appraisal of the trailer park area; the police retirement system and approval of bills for the water treatment plant.

Lenore 'Too Old' For Senate Post, Republican Says

DETROIT (AP) — The only announced Republican candidate for governor, 45-year-old James Driscoll of Lansing, says Mrs. Lenore Romney should be scratched from the U.S. Senate race because of age.

"She's 61 and that's just too old to develop a power base in Washington," Driscoll said on a vote-hunting trip in Detroit Friday.

"The party leaders will be making a big mistake if they endorse Mrs. Romney in the August primary," he added. "We need a younger candidate desperately, one who can serve at least 10 to 15 years."

Driscoll, a former real estate salesman, is given little chance by Republican experts to upset Gov. William Milliken, who is expected to seek re-election. Driscoll said his personal choice for the GOP senatorial nomination is State Sen. Robert J. Huber, R-Troy, "even though he's a conservative and I'm a moderate."

Vote Scheduled On Consolidation Of U.P. Schools

HOUGHTON (AP) — Voters in three Houghton area school districts vote today on a proposed consolidation of their school districts with some 2,400 students involved.

Affected are school units in Adams Township, Chassell and Freda - Redridge. The plans call for erection of a $4-million high school in the Superior area south of Houghton.

Card of Thanks

Boerschinger

We take this means to extend our heartfelt thanks for all the kindness and sympathy shown us by neighbors, relatives and friends, in the illness and death of our dearly beloved son and brother, John. A special thanks to the nurses and staff at St. Francis Hospital. For all the floral gifts and memorial tributes, to Pastor Patrow for his words of comfort, to the organist, Mrs. Pearl St. Clair, to the pallbearers, to those who loaded cars and drivers, to those who donated food and to the women of Immanuel Lutheran Church who prepared and served lunch and to anyone who helped in any way. Your acts of kindness will always be remembered.

To All Parents

I'll lend you for a little time a child of Mine. He said to me, "For you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead, it may be six or seven years, or twenty-two or three. But will you, till I call him back, take care of him for Me? He'll bring his charms to gladden you, and shall his stay be brief? You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief."

"I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return. But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn. I've looked the wide world over in my search for teachers true. And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes I have selected you. Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain, Nor bid Me when he comes to call to take him back again?"

I fancied that I heard them say: "Dear Mother, 'Till he be gone."

For all the joy Thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run. We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may. And for the happiness we've known forever grateful stay. But shall the angels call for him, and shall his stay be planned. We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

Blickham

I wish to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards, gifts, flowers and visits I received while a patient at St. Francis Hospital. A special thanks to the Sisters, the Nurses on second floor, Father Freuberg and Father Schaeffer, to Dr. Paul Groves. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Mary Blickham

AFTER GIVING her a 91 per cent vote, delegates to the Republican consensus convention at Lansing Saturday enthusiastically welcome Mrs. Lenore Romney, center. Mrs. Romney vowed a hard-hitting campaign against Democratic Senator Philip Hart. (AP Wirephoto)

Sharp-Clawed Lenore Prepared For Battle

LANSING (AP) — It will add some spice and excitement to the Michigan political scene to have a Romney campaigning again — and you can expect to see two of them touring the state.

This time the candidate is the ladylike Lenore, not the blunt-spoken George.

But the lady proved she has sharp claws as she tore into Sen. Philip A. Hart, the Democratic incumbent, minutes after she was nominated as the Republican party's "preferred" candidate to oppose the two-term senator.

"Sen. Hart was part of the old Soapy Williams crowd that ran Michigan into the ground back in the 50s," she told a group of cheering GOP leaders Saturday in Lansing.

Mrs. Romney proved she had done her homework well as she dissected Hart's voting record. "He was a hawk when it was popular to be a hawk, and a dove when it was popular to be a dove," she accused.

Hart, she said, "is the acknowledged leader of the professional automatic liberals in the Senate."

The Republicans loved her acid tongue. Whipped into line
